

Registration ends Sept. 22 for NOBTS Fall Break workshops, set for Oct. 20-24

The New Orleans campus escaped hurricane Gustav without major damage, and the seminary's October Fall Break academic workshops on the main New Orleans campus are now open for registration. The dates, classes and teachers are listed on page two. Because the seminary was offline for the week of Gustav and many students were displaced, the registration deadline for the October workshops is being extended to Monday, Sept. 22.

Current students may register online in IQWeb. New students should fill out an online registration form and register through the Registrar's Office. Most of the syllabi for the graduate courses are already posted or will be posted in the near future. Tuition is $145 per hour for graduate courses on the New Orleans campus. Also, note the money-saving early bird Fall Break housing and meal package offered below for students coming to the New Orleans campus.

When reviewing the list of classes offered, please note that some courses do not last the entire week. Also note that the New Orleans Missions: Disaster Relief Training and Experience course, required of all extension center students who did not complete 12 semester hours on the main campus by Sept. 1, 2007, will be offered during the Oct. 20-24 Fall Break workshops session.

Housing, meal package

A special Fall Break housing and meal package is being offered in October to help save money for students who stay at either a dormitory or at Price Hall. Pre-register for this package by the Sept. 22 workshop registration deadline and get lodging plus four breakfasts and three lunches in the cafeteria (breakfast on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday plus lunch on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday). The special Fall Break housing and meal package is available for $70 in the men's and ladies' dormitories and for $85 for those staying at Price Hall. This package is more than a 20 percent discount to help hold down costs. Price Hall has a private bath in each room, while the dormitories have a shared bathroom down the hall. Both the dormitories and Price Hall are double occupancy, and every student needs to bring a bath towel, pillow, blanket and sheets.

Availability for this offer is limited, and these discounts do not apply after Sept. 22. Pre-register for the Fall Break housing and meal package at Providence Guest House by calling toll free 888.886.7276. The charge for the Fall Break housing and meal package will be applied to the student's account. Those whose names are on the list of pre-registered guests should check-in at the Providence Guest House. The meal ticket and room key will be distributed at check-in.

For nicer accommodations, there is limited space in Hamm Hall, Williams Hall and Jim and Jeanette Henry Hall. The student rate for these rooms is $48 a night or $192 for the week. In addition to the two free evening meals, students who stay in Hamm, Williams or Henry Hall can also purchase the meal ticket described below. Be sure to order the meal ticket at the time of room reservation by calling Providence Guest House at 888.886.7276.

each day. Topics vary widely.

Receive Important Text Messages from NOBTS

From time to time, critical messages need to be sent to the seminary family. This is accomplished by several means: email, website communications and announcements in Blackboard and IQWeb.

Now students, faculty and staff can participate in the NOBTS Priority Text Messaging Service through which messages that need immediate attention (weather related issues, school closings, etc.) can be sent directly to a texting device.

To begin receiving these priority text messages, simply logon to IQWeb and click on the "Text Message Contact Number" link located on the left hand menu.

Providing a phone number means agreeing to receive these messages. Please be aware that, while this is a free service from the seminary, standard text messaging rates apply. Anyone can opt out of the service simply by removing the number from the same field in IQWeb. Questions may be submitted to IQHelpDesk@nobts.edu.
