The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

Purpose of the Course
The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to the major concepts and issues related to the aging process and to challenge students to minister effectively with older adults.

Core Value Focus
Doctrinal Integrity – Knowing that the Bible is the Word of God, we believe it, teach it, proclaim it, and submit to it. The doctrinal statements used in our evaluations are our Articles of Religious Belief and the Baptist Faith and Message Statement.
Spiritual Vitality – We are a worshiping community, with both personal spirituality and gathering together as a Seminary for the praise and adoration of God and instruction in His Word.
Mission Focus – We are not here merely to get an education or to give one. We are here to change the world by fulfilling the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.
Characteristic Excellence – What we do, we do to the utmost of our abilities and resources as a testimony to the glory of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.
Servant Leadership – We follow the model of Jesus and exert leadership and influence through the nurture and encouragement of those around us.
Annually, the President will designate a core value that will become the focus of pedagogy for the year. For 2014-2015 academic year that Core Value is Spiritual Vitality.

Curriculum Competencies Addressed
This course will address the following curriculum competencies:

1. Interpersonal relationships: This course will encourage students to value all persons as being made in the image of God.
2. Disciple making: This course assists students in applying their knowledge and understanding of the aging process to ministry with older adults.

Course Description

This course is an interdisciplinary introduction to the major concepts and issues pertinent to the study of the aging process. Theoretical content is combined with practical issues. The course is designed to provide an overview for the generalist in ministry with the elderly and to offer stimulation for further detailed study for the specialist.

Learning Objectives

The student involved in this course should be able to accomplish the following:

1. Think critically about the aging process by considering the social, psychological, biological, and spiritual characteristics of older persons.
2. Articulate their views related to their own aging process.
3. Value older persons.
4. Relate effectively to aging persons.

Required Reading

The following text is required reading for class discussions and is to be read in its entirety unless otherwise specified.

Required Text

Additional reading assignments available on the Internet and posted on Blackboard.

Assignments and Evaluation Criteria

I. Interviews. Each student will conduct three interviews with adults representing three stages of senior adulthood: young old, 65-74; middle old, 75-84; and oldest-old, 85 and older. The focus of each interview is to be life satisfaction, particularly as it relates to the person’s perception of the aging process. The interviews should contain basic information about the person including but not limited to physical health, mental well-being, emotional adjustment, support system, financial resources, living arrangements, activity level, church/community involvement. The interviews should be submitted in summary format. Do not use the person’s name or specific identifying information in your paper.

At the beginning of the interview, explain the purpose of the assignment to the interviewee and obtain his/her consent to be interviewed (use form attached to the syllabus). Note in your paper that you obtained consent from the interviewee. Keep a copy of the consent form and give a copy to the interviewee.

In addition to the interviews, each student should submit a 3-4 page reflection paper (typed, double-spaced, Turabian format) on the interview process, the persons interviewed, and the insights gained from the interviews.

II. Personal View of Aging Paper
Write a 4-5 page paper (typed, double-spaced, Turabian format) examining your personal view of aging. Include the following:
   a) Describe your interaction with older persons when you were a child. How did these experiences influence your view of aging?
   b) Describe your own process of aging. How do you feel about the age you are now? What are your fears about aging? What pleasant experiences do you anticipate as you age?
   c) What is healthy aging? Discuss any role models you have had for healthy aging.
   d) How do your religious beliefs affect your view of aging?
   e) How has this course influenced your attitudes toward your own aging experience?

III. Students will keep a journal throughout the course. The journals will be assessed by the following criteria:
   To what degree did the student engage in self-exploration
   To what degree did the student interact with reading assignments
   To what degree did the student make application to his/her area of ministry
(See grading rubric attached to the syllabus for more information.)
Journal entries should be at least two to three full paragraphs. The title of each journal entry should be the unit number and the student’s last name (e.g. Unit 1 Journal [Last Name]).
Note about Journal: The topics students are asked to write about in their journals often require them to share information about themselves. For this reason, journal entries will be read by the professors and teaching assistants and treated confidentially. However, Information and Technology Center personnel at NOBTS will have access to the Blackboard course and will, in times of need, login to the course to address any problems that might occur that hinder the professors and the students from effectively engaging in online learning.

Journal entries are due when the unit for which they are assigned closes. No late journal entries are allowed in this course. Students may drop one unit journal grade.

IV. Discussion Boards
Threaded discussion is intended to foster dialogue concerning the subject matter. Timely answers are critical for participating in threaded discussions. Initial posts to threaded discussions should be submitted by 11:59 p.m. on Thursday of each week to allow time for further dialogue. All students are expected to respond to at least 2 initial posts per week. Response posts are due when the unit for which they are assigned closes. Threaded discussions should be timely and thought provoking, referencing reading content and making real-life application. Points will be deducted for late initial posts. No late response posts are allowed in this course. Students may drop one unit discussion board grade. (See grading rubric attached to the syllabus.)

V. Final Exam. Students will complete a final exam on the assigned date.

Course Policies

Policy Regarding All Assignments
All assignments should be submitted in either .doc (Microsoft Word) or .wpd (WordPerfect) on Blackboard unless otherwise stated.

Academic Honesty Policy
All graduate and undergraduate NOBTS students, whether on-campus, internet, or extension center students, are expected to adhere to the highest Christian standard of honesty and integrity when completing academic assignments for all courses in every delivery system format. The Bible provides our standard for academic integrity and honesty. This standard applies whether a student is taking tests, quizzes, exams, writing papers, completing Discussion Boards, or any other course requirement.
Academic Policies
Academic policies related to absences, examinations, and other topics can be found in the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary Academic Catalog.

Blackboard
Blackboard will be used extensively in this class. Please make sure that your contact information on Blackboard is accurate. If you need assistance accessing Blackboard, please contact the Information Technology Center.

Netiquette
Appropriate Online Behavior. Each student is expected to demonstrate appropriate Christian behavior when working online on Discussion Boards or whenever interaction occurs through web, digital, or other electronic medium. The student is expected to interact with others students in a fashion that will promote learning and respect for the opinions of others in the course. A spirit of Christian charity is expected at all times in the online environment.

INTERVIEW CONSENT FORM

I am a student at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. I am taking a class in which we are learning about older adults and how they view various topics related to our course objectives. The interview will last approximately 1 hour. I will take notes on what you tell me while we are talking because I am required to write a summary of the interview for my class.

Your participation in this interview is voluntary. If you discover that you do not like the interview, you may stop at any point. You are not required to answer any questions you do not want to answer. If you find any topic unpleasant or otherwise not to your liking, please tell me and we will go on to another one.

The information you provide me will be confidential. I will not put your name in my notes nor reveal your identity in my written report. The class instructor and grader will read the contents of the written summaries to see what each student learned.

Do you have any questions you would like to ask before we begin?

CONSENT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE INTERVIEW

Informant’s Statement: The purpose of the interview has been described to me. I have had a chance to ask the student questions about the interview. I understand that I may end the interview at any time and that I may decline to answer any of the questions asked. I voluntarily consent to participate in this interview.
