Abstract text begins here. Note that the names associated with the project are single-spaced while the text that follows is double-spaced. Provide a succinct, descriptive account of your work indicating your purpose, project model, and results. For proposals, use present tense, and for reports, use past tense.

Leave a two-inch margin at the top of the abstract page. Set the left margin to one and a half inches; set both the right, bottom, and top margins to one inch. Note the extra line of space between Abstract and the title, between the title and the names associated with the project, and between the names associated with the project and the text.

The abstract is the last page in the front matter, immediately preceding the text. Although the abstract page number is not included at the bottom of the page, the page is included in the total page count. Limit the abstract to one page.
