The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

Purpose and Core Value

The purpose of this seminar is to support theological education for Ph.D. students in foundational issues related to the Teaching Ministry of the Church. The course will include an emphasis on the seminary’s 2017-2018 core value focus: Servant Leadership.

Course Description

An analytical survey will be made of the historical development of Christian education, the major philosophical perspectives of education, and the theological foundations for intentional, consistent, and life-long spiritual formation in the local church. Students will research and discuss selected educational trends in history, major contemporary philosophical perspectives of education, and the theological implications of effective educational practice. Finally, students will develop a personal philosophy of Christian education that provides practical direction for discipling present and prospective church members of all ages.

Curriculum Competencies Addressed

This course will address the following curriculum competencies:

1. Interpersonal Skills: Understand how to build relationships with other ministry leaders within the local church.
2. Servant Leadership: Determine how the local church leaders can serve one another while still providing the appropriate leadership required for the local church at large.
3. Spiritual and Character Formation: As a leadership team intentionally “grow up in all things into Him who is the head – Christ” (Eph. 4:15b, NKJV).

Learning Objectives

1. Students will demonstrate understanding of the Disciplers' Model as a framework for intentional, consistent spiritual formation in local churches by doing such things as:
Defining and describing the seven elements of the Model.
Explaining the two sources of imbalance that hinders intentional spiritual formation
Differentiating the work of disciplers and of the Discipler in Christian Education

2. Students will demonstrate understanding of the scope of the seminar by describing in their own words the place of history, philosophy, and theology in the study and practice of Christian education.

3. Students will demonstrate understanding of the historical precedents, philosophical perspectives, and theological constructs of contemporary Christian Education by doing such things as these:

   Writing and presenting research on an assigned historical age, educational philosophy, and theological element as these relate to contemporary Christian education thought and practice.

   Preparing PowerPoint visuals and analytical questions to support the presentation of research to fellow students.

4. Students will demonstrate understanding of the history, philosophy, and theology of Christian Education by writing a post-seminar paper ["A Framework for Growing Believers in the Lord in the Local Church (Eph 4:15)"] from seminar research and presentations.

Course Teaching Methodology

This course will utilize directed readings, conversational lecture, academic writing, creative student presentation, and discussion to secure accomplishment of course objectives.

Required Texts

These textbooks will be used in preparation for each of the three on-campus sessions. Secure the four texts and begin reading them in this suggested order: Anthony (2001), Anthony and Benson (2003), Knight (2006), Estep (2008). Assignments are described below. Note that there are no written assignments due for Session One, August 25.

Assignments and Evaluation Criteria

Late Assignments

Personal time management is as much a requisite skill for ministry as is mastery of the course content. Accordingly, assignments are expected on the due date as indicated in the Course Schedule. Late assignments will not be accepted. No grades of incomplete will be issued for this course.

Assignment Formatting

- Use Turabian format for formal papers.
- Write papers in passive voice (“Articles were read” vs. First person active “I read articles” or third person active “The researcher read articles”).
- Use double space lines and 12-point Times New Roman font
- Revise formal papers to insure correct spelling, proper grammar, and pagination
- Staple assignments (no report covers please) with a standard cover page
- Post on Blackboard for class. Provide a hard copy of your written work for the professor for on-campus assignments

Required Assignments Summary

- Session One Assignments – There are no assignments for Session One
- Session Two Assignments - Due: Sep 29 (personal research paper due 9/22)
- Session Three Assignments - Due: Nov 3 (personal research paper due 10/27)
- Session Four Assignments - Due: Dec 8 (personal research paper due 12/1)
- Reflection Paper - Due: Dec 15
Session One: Aug 25

Given the new 4-session schedule for PhD seminars this fall, we will use Session One as an introduction to the seminar. We will overview each of the three emphases of the seminar by presenting and discussing

- "The Disciplers' Model" ~ Teaching so that learners grow up in the Lord
- "The Christian Teachers' Triad" ~ A biblical meta-theory of learning

These introductory PowerPoint and PDF materials are found under "Course Documents."

You will be assigned an era in history to research regarding perspectives and practices of Christian Education (or, the role of teaching in religious institutions) for presentation during Session Two).

Session Two, September 29
