I. MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandment through the local church and its ministries.

II. CORE VALUES:

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary has five core values: Doctrinal Integrity, Spiritual Vitality, Mission Focus, Characteristic Excellence, and Servant Leadership. This course addresses Doctrinal Integrity specifically in that the course is designed to prepare the student to grow in the understanding and interpreting of the Word of God.

Characteristic Excellence is also addressed in that the student should be as prepared as possible to be ministers for Christ. Mission Focus is emphasized in that interpreting the Bible is a key element in presenting the Good News of the Gospel to the world. Proper interpretation is vital in fulfilling the Great Commission. This course addresses the competency of Biblical Exposition by preparing the student to interpret and communicate the Bible accurately. The core value for NOBTS this year is spiritual vitality.

III. KEY COMPETENCIES:

The Seminary has seven key competencies in its academic program. They are: Biblical Exposition, Christian Theological Heritage, Discipleship Making, Interpersonal Skills, Servant Leadership, Spiritual and Character Formation, and Worship Leadership. The key competency addressed in this course is Biblical Exposition.

IV. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is a study of the principles of biblical interpretation, an introduction to the major resources available for biblical interpretation, and an exegetical study of selected passages from the various types of biblical literature. The major focus of the course is practical—the course goal is that the student would develop sound methods of exegesis and application of biblical texts.
V. COURSE OUTCOMES:

Knowledge

Students who complete this course successfully should:

- Understand the significance of hermeneutics for biblical exposition
- Know the basic methods of biblical interpretation that have been practiced throughout history
- Know basic principles of grammatical-historical interpretation that lead interpreters to discover the meaning intended by the biblical author
- Know the major genres of scripture and the hermeneutical principles that should be applied to each genre
- Know the important tools that may be useful in the study of the biblical text
- Know principles that guide modern preachers and teachers in applying biblical truths to our contemporary context

Attitudes

Students who complete this course successfully should:

- Appreciate the complexities of the exegetical task
- Recognize the importance of sound exegesis
- Be more confident in interpreting biblical texts

Skills

Students who complete this course successfully should be able to:

- Contextualize New Testament texts within their ancient historical, cultural, social, and literary settings for the purpose of interpretation
- Prepare word studies that lead the interpreter to understand better the biblical author’s usage of special vocabulary significant to the exegetical task
- Write a formal paper using required form and style guidelines that integrates learning activities of the course into the sound exegesis of an assigned passage
- Derive timeless truths from the biblical text and show how these should affect the beliefs and behavior of contemporary Christians
V. COURSE TEACHING METHODS:

The goals of this course dictate in large part the teaching methods. Readings and lectures are central to covering the knowledge base needed for the course. Small group discussions allow for student interaction with the material presented. Multimedia technology--including video, audio, graphics, and presentation media--are incorporated into classroom activity to enhance the learning process. Biblical texts are used as examples to illustrate hermeneutical principles discussed in class. The combination of reading, lectures, multimedia, class discussions, and small groups should help build appreciation for sound exegesis of the Bible. The student’s skills as an exegete are developed further through written assignments related to word studies, background studies, and an exegetical paper.

VI. TEXTS:

- The Bible in any modern committee translation, such as ESV, HCSB, RSV, NRSV, NIV, NASB, etc.

VII. REQUIREMENTS IN THE COURSE:

A. Pre-Workshop Assignments (Due Beginning of Workshop):

1. Textbook Reading. Students are required to read the three textbooks (as directed) prior to the beginning of the workshop (FS and KBH completely). This requirement is crucial for laying the foundation for a student to absorb lecture material presented during the workshop.

2. Textbook Reading Report (20%). Students will compile a reading report to be submitted at the beginning of the workshop. The report will be single-spaced, 12 point Times New Roman, with one-inch margins. Do not use plastic or cardboard covers or binders of any kind. Simply staple the report in the top left corner. The report will have the following three parts:

   2.1 Reading Percentage: The student will indicate in a statement the estimated percentage of required reading they completed prior to the beginning of the workshop. The student will provide a signature for this statement.

   2.2 FS. Prepare a three page, single spaced assessment of this text. Limit your chapter summation to no more than 1.5 pages. In the remaining space, critically assess what FS have presented.

   2.4. KBH. Answer the following three questions from the assigned reading. For each question your answer should be at least one page single space (4 to 6 pages total).
1. How does the psychology of understanding impact the interpreter and the reader of the biblical text? Engage the discussion of KBH in the introductory chapters to address this question.

2. Describe the interpretive approaches of the Antiochean vs. the Alexandrian schools of thought. How did these two approaches impact biblical interpretation until the time of the reformation. Assess the information provided by KBH and investigate Gerald Bray’s text (extra credit reading) for any additional needed data.

3. What’s the big deal about genre in the Book of Acts: Discuss either Acts 6 or Acts 8 as either prescriptive or descriptive models for understanding. How does either perspective impact how one reads either passage. FS should largely shape this answer.

B. Workshop Assignments (Due during the Workshop):

1. Class Participation (5%). The student will prepare for each class by reviewing the material in the three textbooks for the assigned topics for the day. The student may be asked to prepare some material in a class handout or to participate in some activity outside of class. Class participation will be observed each session.

2. Background Study (15%). The student will compile a background study about the historical and cultural context for an assigned passage. The study will be single-spaced, 12 point Times or Times New Roman, with one-inch margins. Do not use plastic or cardboard covers or binders of any kind. Simply staple the study in the top left corner. The background study is due at the beginning of class, Friday, May 29. Late penalty is five points after the beginning of the class hour of the due date, then five points per each subsequent day.

C. Post-Workshop Assignments (Due After the Workshop):

1. Word Study (25%). The student will compile a word study for an assigned passage. The study will be single-spaced, 12 point Times or Times New Roman, with one-inch margins. Do not use plastic or cardboard covers or binders of any kind. Simply staple the study in the top left corner. The word study is due Monday, June 8. That means, if mailed, the postmark must be sometime June 8. If e-mailed as a Word file, the e-mail with the file attached must be sent sometime June 8. Late penalty is five points per day.

2. Exegetical Paper (35%). Building on the prior background study and word study, the student will write an exegetical paper on an assigned topic, using tools discussed in the course. The paper should build upon, not simply repeat, earlier assignments. The study should be Turabian style, sixteen to eighteen double-spaced pages, plus a bibliography. Do not use plastic or cardboard covers or binders of any kind. Simply staple the paper in the top left corner. The paper is due Monday, June 29. That means, if mailed, the postmark must be sometime June 29. If e-mailed (Microsoft Word files only), the e-mail with the file attached must be sent sometime June 29. Late penalty is five points per day.
Required Outline. The paper's required outline is given in detail below:

Introduction—Build interest; indicate the purpose for the paper, the general nature of the passage being studied, and the exegetical promise of the passage.

Chapter 1: Text and Historical Background

Include the Bible translation of the assigned passage, along with THE RESULTS of your word study and background study. Be sure to include additional background data discovered from further study.

(1) Bible Translation—Provide the bibliographic data of this publication.

(2) Word Study—Summarize in a concise and condensed form your previous word study of a theologically significant term in the passage.

(3) Historical Background—Summarize in a concise and condensed form your previous background study of a key topic in the passage. Give historical background material pertinent to the specific document and author and the particular passage being studied.

Chapter 2: Exegetical Analysis

Provide the basic exegesis of this biblical passage. This exegesis should be focused on the principal literary context of the passage or topic at hand, as well as a literary analysis of the material.

(1) Literary Context—Overview the literary context of your particular passage in terms of its placement in the immediate and larger outline of the document.

(2) Literary Analysis—Indicate the internal structure of the logic and argument of the passage and an exegetical outline, with critical commentary of the verses.

(3) Conclusion/Central Theme—Conclude by summarizing the main results of the research, what has been learned from the historical background and exegetical analysis. Finally, state the central theme of the passage in one concise sentence as supported by the exegetical analysis, and then expand on the idea. Indicate a central biblical truth supported by the passage to guide teaching and preaching.

Chapter 3: Practical Application

Anticipate an application of this passage in a ministry setting. This application is your choice, and could be a bible study, a sermon, a women’s conference, a retreat, or some other ministry setting.
(1) Title—Give a title for the application that either invokes a key idea or teases the audience with an interesting angle (not trite, though, such as silly puns or simplistic play on words).

(2) Truth—State the central bible truth or Christian living key to come from studying or preaching this passage, derived directly from the theme indicated above.

(3) Objective—Provide a clear, concise statement of a.) the desired lesson or sermon outcome and b.) an appropriate audience response.

(4) Outline—Not the same as the exegetical outline, which follows grammar and logic flow, this outline is based upon the exegetical work but is developed topically or logically for teaching or preaching the passage.

(5) Development—If a Bible study, this would include your opening attention getter or illustration or activity, and a fleshing out of the outline with points and appropriate illustrations; if a sermon, this would be your opening attention getter or audience rapport device, and a fleshing out of your sermon outline with points and appropriate illustrations.

(6) Conclusion—If a Bible study, this would include your final illustration, activity, or teaching aid that reinforces the focal truth; if a sermon, this would be your specific conclusion and challenge for response(illustration, story, etc.).

D. Extra Credit. (up to +3 points on final average) Review one of the following books (2 to 3 pages), due by Friday, May 29.

- Bray, Gerald. Biblical Interpretation: Past & Present
- Corley, Lemke, and Lovejoy. Biblical Hermeneutics
- Crenshaw, James. Trembling at the Threshold of a Biblical Text
- Dyrness, William. How Does America Hear the Gospel?
- Felder, Cain Hope, ed. Stony the Road We Trod
- Kaiser, Jr., Walter C. and Moises Silva. An Introduction to Biblical Hermeneutics: The Search for Meaning
- Silva, Moises. Foundations of Contemporary Interpretation
- Sire, James W. The Universe Next Door
- Stein, Robert H. Playing by the Rules: A Basic Guide to Interpreting the Bible
- Wright, Christopher J. H. Knowing Jesus Through the Old Testament
E. Grading. The course grade will be the average of class participation (5%), reading report (20%), background study (15%), word study (25%), and paper (35%), plus extra credit.

Please note that the Practical Application paper will including the following embedded assignment and grading rubric:

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. The student will be able to understand the principles guiding the exegetical process for biblical interpretation.

2. The student will be able to use appropriate tools, resources, and methods to apply sound exegetical principles toward biblical interpretation.

3. The student will be able to communicate clearly the meaning of the biblical text to a contemporary audience.

Assignment Description:

1. Using the research developed in the exegesis paper, write a polished, 7-8 page paper demonstrating the understanding of appropriate principles guiding the exegetical process for the particular genre assigned.

2. Indicate the use of appropriate tools, methods, and resources in the application of sound exegetical principles.

3. Communicate the meaning of the text, keeping in mind the contemporary audience.

4. The paper may take two forms: 1) a ready to deliver, word-for-word, sermon manuscript; 2) a teaching article, such as an article for Biblical Illustrator.

TEXTBOOK READING REPORT—Example Format:

Your Name         Hermeneutics Workshop
Textbook Reading Report Ray
May 25, 2015      NOBTS Main Campus

1. Reading Percentage: _______

The number indicated above is the estimated percentage of required reading that I have completed prior to the beginning of this workshop.

Signature: ________________

2. Genre Guidelines

Narrative. Here is where you would begin your summary of narrative genre guidelines that you have derived from the textbooks. Each genre should be no more than a page in length.

[Etc.]. Here is where you would begin your summary of law genre and so forth. Each genre should be no more than a page in length.
1. General Background [Example: The City of Rome and the Letter of Romans]

This would be a discussion of the general background of that topic. If the student were doing a background on the topic of a city, such as Rome, for example, one would overview the history of the rise of Roman power in Italy, and of the city of Rome itself, its culture, economy, the makeup of the population, etc.

2. Immediate Background [Example: The City of Rome and the Letter of Romans]

This would be the more specific background of Rome and Paul’s relationship with the city. This would include important recent political events, such as Nero’s declaration about taxes. The student might include how the Edict of Claudius in AD 49 would have impacted the social makeup of synagogues in Rome. When did Paul first encounter this city? What was happening with Paul at this time in his mission work? How did subsequent events in Jerusalem (Paul’s arrest and imprisonment in Caesarea) affect his relationship with the Roman church?

Word: “Your Assigned Word Here”

Text: Your Assigned Text Here

1. Diachronic Analysis (Etymology and History)

This would be a discussion of the use of the assigned word through time. Lexicons, dictionaries, and theological wordbooks would be principal resources.

2. Synchronic Analysis (Contemporary and Contextual)

This would be the more specific usage of the word in the first-century world (if New Testament), as well as the general usage within the New Testament and in this particular biblical author. Lexicons, dictionaries, and theological wordbooks would be used, but also, concordances and commentaries would be principal resources too.
