NOBTS MISSION STATEMENT:
The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

COURSE PURPOSE, CORE VALUE FOCUS, AND CURRICULUM COMPETENCIES:
New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary has five core values: Doctrinal Integrity, Spiritual Vitality, Mission Focus, Characteristic Excellence, and Servant Leadership. These values shape both the context and manner in which all curricula are taught, with “doctrinal integrity” and “Characteristic Excellence” especially highlighted in this course. The seminary is emphasizing the core value of Characteristic Excellence this year and encourages all at the seminary to focus especially on this emphasis.

NOBTS also has seven basic competencies that guide our Masters degree programs: Biblical Exposition, Christian Theological Heritage, Disciple Making, Interpersonal Skills, Servant Leadership, Spiritual and Character Formation, and Worship Leadership. This course especially addresses the “Biblical Exposition” competency by means of helping the student learn to interpret the Bible accurately.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
A study is made of paleography, the ancient witnesses to the text of the New Testament, the history of the handwritten text of the New Testament, and the actual practice of textual criticism. In connection with the last of these subjects, students learn to read the critical apparatuses of the Nestle-Aland and the United Bible Societies editions of the Greek New Testament and to evaluate significant variant readings.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:
The objectives of this course include the following:
1. Students should understand the history and state of research for the field of NT TC
2. Students should gain an increased appreciation for how TC aids in the study of the NT
3. Students should acquire the ability to utilize the textual apparatus in the Greek New Testament (UBS and N-A) and apply this ability to sound interpretation of the text

COURSE TEACHING METHODS:
This course will be taught via a combination of pedagogical methods, including but not limited to the following: lectures, student assignments, small group work, computer resources, textbook reviews, and student presentations in class. Both inductive and deductive approaches to learning NT TC will be utilized.
TEXTBOOKS:
4. Bruce M. Metzger, A Textual Commentary on the GNT, 4th UBS ed.

REQUIREMENTS IN THE COURSE:
1. Class participation and readings. Complete the assigned readings according to the schedule. Quizzes may be given over the material periodically. (10%)
2. Transcribe a portion of the NT from a NT Greek manuscript. The results will be evaluated and then discussed in class. Due Oct. 11 with discussion on Oct. 25. (15%)
3. An analysis of the assigned textual variants will be made on the form provided by the professor and brought to class on the day set for the discussion of the variant. Two critical commentaries are to be read on each passage/variant. A copy of the form is to be submitted to the professor for each variant reading on the day assigned for the variant. Students will be assigned specific variants for which they are responsible to lead the discussion. (25%)
4. A sectional exam and a final exam will be given. Each exam will cover only the material covered in that part of the course. (25% each exam)
5. EXTRA CREDIT: Additional readings in the area of NT TC approved by the professor will be credited at the rate of 1 point on the final average for each 150 pages read, up to a maximum of 3 points. A brief (1 page per 150 pages of readings) report must be submitted for credit. These must be submitted by the time of the final exam.
