Mission Statement
The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

Core Value Focus
The seminary has five core values: Doctrinal Integrity, Spiritual Vitality, Mission Focus, Characteristic Excellence, and Servant Leadership. The core value focus for this academic year is Spiritual Vitality.

Curriculum Competencies
All graduates of NOBTS are expected to have at least a minimum level of competency in each of the following areas: Biblical Exposition, Christian Theological Heritage, Disciple Making, Interpersonal Skills, Servant Leadership, Spiritual and Character Formation, and Worship Leadership. The curriculum competencies addressed in this course are: Worship Leadership and Servant Leadership. The curriculum competencies addressed in this course are: worship leadership; and Christian theological heritage.

Course Description
The purpose of this seminar is to engage students in an in-depth study of Christian worship from the time of the early Church to the present. Special emphasis is given to cultural, philosophical, musical, and theological influences that have shaped the development and practice of worship and liturgy for the Christian community over the past twenty centuries.

Student Learning Outcomes
At the conclusion of the course, the student will:
1. Have an increased awareness of what the personal understanding and experience of worship might have been like for Christians across the ages, from the early Church through the present.
2. Have a thorough knowledge of the development of Christian liturgy and the various influences which shaped its development throughout the history of the Church.
3. More greatly appreciate the worship ethos surrounding different eras of church history along with significant theological ideas which have shaped the historical practice of Christian worship in its various expressions and denominations.
4. Understand and appreciate the historical developments in church music as a part of liturgical expression throughout church history.

Embedded Assignment

No book review required for texts marked with *.

Course Teaching Methodology
The course will involve the following methodologies: Three seminar meetings during the semester convening on the following dates: Sep 19-20, Oct 24-25, and Nov 21-22; student-led discussion of reading; original research projects; professor and student seminar presentations; and a final synthesis reflection paper.

Course Assignments

1. Course Reading, Book Reviews.
   Each student will acquire the course textbooks and read the assigned reading list prior to each seminar meeting. For each assigned text, the student will write a formal book review. Guidelines for the formal book review are included at the end of this syllabus. (See seminar schedule for due dates.)

2. Discussion-leading during the seminar. From the reading list, each student will be assigned specific texts (or chapters) for which she or he will be responsible for leading seminar discussion. Discussion leaders should prepare written questions in advance which cover an in-depth discussion of the sources. Questions for these assignments should be submitted to Blackboard prior to the seminar meeting. (See seminar schedule for due dates.)

3. Case studies. Six of the assigned texts are written as case studies related to a particular worship tradition in a certain place and time in worship history. Each student will be assigned one of the case studies and will lead the seminar in a detailed discussion related to the subject. Guidelines will be provided for areas to address in the discussion of the case study.

4. Formal research paper and seminar presentation. Each student will complete a formal research paper on a topic relevant to the focus of the seminar and present it to the seminar during either session two or three of the on-campus seminar meetings (depending upon the topic). Papers should be 2500 words in length and should be written using Turabian (latest edition) format for style. Seminar presentations of the paper should be approximately 30 minutes in length, including discussion. The student should provide a copy of the paper to the other members of the seminar. Use of media (Powerpoint, etc.) to aid the presentation is suggested but optional. Topics will be approved by the professor in advance (at the time of the first seminar meeting). (Due date: Seminar meeting 2 or 3, as assigned)

5. Synthesis paper. As a final assignment, each student will write a synthesis paper dealing with the historical elements of corporate worship (Communion, baptism, reading and preaching of Scripture, visual arts, musical praise, prayer, offerings, liturgical structure, etc.). The paper should seek to answer the question, What can the evangelical church of today gain from an historical study of Christian worship? The paper should utilize seminar resources as well as outside reading and apply historical practice to present day contexts of the local church’s expression of corporate worship. Seminar discussion in the final seminar meeting will allow students to share insights from their papers. (Due at time of seminar meeting 3, Nov 21).

Assignment submissions
The course shell in Blackboard (from the NOBTS homepage) will serve as a clearinghouse for the seminar. All written assignments should be submitted in the appropriate assignment folders. No email submissions will be accepted.
