Mission Statement

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Leavell College prepare servants to walk with Christ, proclaim His truth, and fulfill His mission.

Course Description

This seminar centers on preparing expository sermons and deriving homiletical values from selected books representing the Law, the prophets, and the writings. For this seminar, students will choose to study either Deuteronomy, Isaiah, or Book III of the Psalms. The work is aimed at providing a model upon which students can establish an effective life-discipline of study and sermon preparation in the major genre of the Old Testament.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students who successfully complete the requirements of this course will be able to:

1. Demonstrate competence in using the principles of biblical hermeneutics within the selected book and its genre via addressing the historical & literary contexts; genre analysis; and content analysis [that is, thematic big ideas]).
2. Create exegetical information necessary as the pre-work for homiletical exposition.
3. Organize a series of exegetical-expository sermons from the selected book.
4. Compose a complete sermon (manuscript) that indicates integration and characterization of sound exegetical-homiletical principles.

Textbooks

Required Biblical Studies Text:

Brown, Jeanine K. Scripture As Communication: Introducing Biblical Hermeneutics. Second ed. Grand Rapids, MI: Baker, 2021.
Dorsey, David A. The Literary Structure of the Old Testament: A Commentary on Genesis-Malachi. Grand Rapids, MI: Baker, 1999.

Required Homiletical Text (Required for all students):

Greidanus, Sidney. Preaching Christ from the Old Testament: A Contemporary Hermeneutical Method. Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 1999.

(Choose Goldsworthy or the one that best fits your selected genre):

Goldsworthy, Graeme. Preaching the Whole Bible as Christian Scripture: The Application of Biblical Theology to Expository Preaching. Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 2000.

Matthewson, Steven D. The Art of Preaching Old Testament Poetry. Grand Rapids: Baker, 2024.

Matthewson, Steven D. The Art of Preaching Old Testament Narrative. Grand Rapids: Baker, 2021.

Course Teaching Methodology

The course will involve the following methodologies:

1. Directed studies undertaken by the students.
2. Guided lecture, critical thinking, and group discussion.
3. Presentations (papers or slides) modeling the components for both biblical studies and homiletics.
4. Employment of online group meetings via the Internet to facilitate needed seminar work.

Course Requirements

1. Read the required textbooks completely. Due by December 4, 2026.

2. Bring devotionals from only your selected book (Deuteronomy, Isaiah, or Psalms (Bk 3)) to begin each class session (as assigned). (Use slides—no more than 8-10 minutes). Sign-ups will be forthcoming in the detailed schedule (Canvas).

3. Hermeneutics worksheet questions: Utilize slides to present the historical occasion of one of the Minor Prophets. Engage at least five scholarly sources and cite as needed. Do your best to ascertain why the prophet framed his content in the light of his context. This presentation should allow us to recognize the relevance of both the human condition as well as the contextual similarities facing proclaimers of God's Word, starting with them in their setting and continuing to our contemporary cultural context. Plan for 20 minutes (max) for your presentation. Please sign up for one book in particular; first come first serve via the Canvas Shell (a shared, interactive document). Due during the seminar meeting.

4. Media Assessment of published or digital media sermon series on the selected book. Investigate and report on how one significant American or British preacher preached from the Minor Prophets. Via a slide presentation, show how your chosen preacher's series, sermons, or topics addressed the message(s) of the Minor Prophets. Assess the value, showing the relevance of doing something similar in the contemporary church. (20 minutes). Please designate your preacher; first come first serve via the Canvas Shell (a shared, interactive document). Due during the seminar meeting.

5. Develop a Sermon Series on your selected book: Each student will prepare 10-15 sermon setups (mini-sermon briefs comprised of a title, text, and proposition). From these, completely prepare a Sermon Series consisting of six SERMON BRIEFS (single-spaced, Times New Roman 12pt. font, Turabian [utilizing attached Sermon Brief Form]). Be sure to use sound exegetical foundations for preaching (i.e., historical background, literary structure, content analysis, and homiletical skills).

Each student will defend one Sermon Brief from this series when it is presented and critiqued in the seminar. Due during the week of the seminar meeting!

Each student will provide a brief Introduction to the Sermon Series indicating a name for the Series, stating the purpose of the series, and explaining the reasons for the selection of the particular book(s) and passages included in the Series. The completed Sermon Series is due on November 16, 2026.

6. FULL SERMON MANUSCRIPT: Submit a manuscript from one of the above sermon briefs. Each student will develop it into a full Sermon Manuscript (6-8 page, single-spaced, Times New Roman 12pt. font, Turabian formatted).

Although an Exegetical Paper on the selected passage for the Sermon Manuscript is not a required assignment for the course, the Explanation Section of the Sermon Manuscript should reflect the fact that a thorough exegesis of the selected text has been done.

The Functional Elements of Explanation, Illustration, Application, and possibly Argumentation should be included in the Sermon Manuscript along with transition statements.

An Invitation indicating desired response from the congregation should be included.

A brief introductory paragraph should explain the place of the selected text for the full Sermon Manuscript in the overall Sermon Series. The Sermon Manuscript is due on December 1, 2026.

7. Present and defend your sermon brief in class. (20 minutes plus critique)

If you are taking this course as a NOLA2U Live student, please note the following attendance policies:

1. The course on the New Orleans campus will be connected synchronously via Web conferencing with Internet students. This course will require daily attendance for all the stated class meeting times.
2. Students are not allowed to miss ProDoc workshop class time. Exceptions can be only granted by the Graduate Dean office.
3. Technical issues will not be considered a valid reason for missing a seminar session.

Evaluation of Grade

The student's grade will be computed as follows:

1. Participation	10%
2. Textbook Reading	10%
3. Hermeneutical worksheet presentation	15%
4. Media Assessment of Premodern/Contemporary Preaching Models	15%
5. Sermon Series	25%
